FORWARD GREEN EXPO

adapting circular economy

The 'Forward Green' (FG-Expo) exhibition and congress event is a HELEXPO initiative that aims to contribute to the implementation of a new entrepreneurial mentality for Greece, based on circular economy, green development and the transformation of business models in order to conserve natural resources and move towards sustainable development.

This new approach to the economy concerns a number of processes that require circular planning, which begins at the use of the raw materials and leads all the way to production, distribution, consumption, and the recycling of the consumed products, so that the least amount of waste ends up in the environment.

With the support of the State, which will have to invest substantially in the sustainable management of the economy, and the global urgent need to follow policies and practices oriented towards green entrepreneurship and innovation, FG-Expo aims to create the right environment for networking for the private and the public sector.

The 1st Forward Green International Exhibition is addressed to companies, agencies, organisations, and governmental agents that are adopting modern practices for the utilisation of raw materials, construction materials, technologies, energy, recycling, and packaging, which, through innovative solutions and smart partnerships, will have a positive impact on the reduction of environmental pollution, increasing the sustainability of products and services, while also creating new business opportunities.
