

Dr. Costas Baslis is Electrical and Computer Engineer, holding a PhD degree on electricity markets from the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. Since 2010 he has been with HERON Group of Companies, where he serves as Energy Management Director, while also holding the position of Chairman of the BoD at Optimus Energy, a group's subsidiary company. Dr. Baslis has a long professional experience in wholesale electricity and natural gas markets in Greece and abroad, focusing on portfolio management of generation, supply and trading activities, active participation of renewable projects in spot markets and optimization of long-term energy offtake agreements. He has also authored several research papers published in top-ranked peer-reviewed scientific journals and conferences.